Keyd is a keyboard remapping daemon

Keybindings

- j – go down by a small margin
- k – go down by a small margin
- d – go down by half a page
- u – go up by half a page
- h – go left by a small margin
- l – go right by a small margin
- page down/up – go page down/up
- any number + G – go to specific page
- m* – make a mark, the * is the identifying letter of the mark
- '* – load a mark
- s – scale the document to fit 100% width of the screen
- a – adjust the document to fit 100% height of the screen
- i – invert document colors
- D – toggle the double page mode
- f – enter fullscreen
- F – Detect links, then you can open them when the link associated letter appears next to it.
- : enter command mode
- q – quit the program
- tab – view bookmarks (embedded inside pdf)
- e – translate the selected fragment using cliptrans command